The Philippine Deposit Insurance Corporation (PDIC) warns the public against individuals who issue “Certificates of Registered Depositor Membership” bearing the PDIC logo. The public is further advised that PDIC does not issue “Certificates of Registered Depositor Membership” or any document certifying that an individual is a bona fide depositor of a bank. PDIC does not collect any fee from depositors in exchange for deposit insurance coverage. In view hereof, PDIC shall not be liable for claims arising from such document or misrepresentation.

The public is hereby advised to exercise prudence and vigilance against such misrepresentation and report any information of all unverified documents purportedly originated from PDIC, through:
